

Conversations

Consider the way in which educators communicate with each other throughout the day. This can be evidence of reflective practice and collaborative teamwork

Displays

Look at your displays and consider what message they convey about your understanding of compliance. Use wording that demonstrates learning and reflects your context

Compliance evidence ideas

Your everyday practices and environment is a reflection of your understanding of compliance.
Consider the following...

Documentation

Think about how documents such as policies, observations, philosophies and even newsletters embed a deep understanding of compliance and what this looks like in your service

Children's engagement

The way in which children engage with the resources, educators and each other reflects daily practices. Consider how you support children to direct the learning through relationships